

Safety Town Pop-Ups in Schools

Safety Town is a nationally recognized safety awareness and education program teaching accident and injury prevention that also highlights the careers of community helpers. Real South Carolina firefighters, police officers, EMTs, State Department of Natural Resources officers, and other community helpers guide participants through opportunities in these fields and share about their pathways into the professions while the children ride tricycles and walk through a mini town that includes street signs, water, sidewalks, and railroads.

SC Career Kids' Safety Town Pop-Up Program takes the Safety Town experience on the road by offering a mobile version of the program that can travel to various schools and provide in-school, on-site field trips. The program includes vital traffic safety and other safety concepts instruction, developmentally age-appropriate safety activities, hands-on learning, and visits from community professionals to learn personal and community safety in a fun, interactive, experiential, and controlled environment.
